Art Unit: 1751

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

I. Claims 1-23, drawn to an electrically conductive polyimide-based substrate, classified in class 252, subclass 500.

II. Claims 24-25, drawn to a multilayer article, classified in class 428, subclass 411.1+.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions of Group II and Group I are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the subcombination requires particular surface characteristics not recited in the combination claims. The subcombination has separate utility such as a distinct layer.

Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification, and because the searches required for these distinct groups are not coextensive, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

This application additionally contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species:

1) substrate in accordance with claim 1, said substrate comprising all or part of an imaging transfer belt in a high-speed color copying machine,

2) substrate in accordance with claim 1, said substrate being a component of a multilayer flexible or rigid circuit board,

3) substrate in accordance with claim 1, said substrate being a component of an anti-static blanket,

4) substrate in accordance with claim 1, said substrate being a component of a circuit package,

5) substrate in accordance with claim 1, wherein the substrate is a component of a packaging composition,

The species are independent or distinct because each recites a different patentable utility.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claims 1-13 and 18-25 generic.

Art Unit: 1751

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

A telephone call was made to Mr. Konrad Keading on 07/16/06 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Mark Kopec whose telephone number is (571) 272-1319. The examiner
